1. General Remarks on the Plan

State Not known

Defense None

CIA Plan acceptable in its present form with one exception
(See paragraph V - C - 3).

JSFD Have studied plan [REDACTED] and am of the opinion that the plan has a general tendency to go into too great detail. From the military point of view, a danger exists in giving detailed instructions to a senior commander in that an inference may be drawn that in not mentioning a specific course of action, that action is precluded. I feel that broad guidance is more effective in that it gives the operating agency greater latitude of action.

2. Specific Remarks on the Plan

With the possible exception of State, all specific remarks start with Section V.
